Poor Light Is Blamed In Fatality

Verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury in the Nov. 3 traffic death of Edward C. Gillett, Canadian army private.

Driver of the truck, Gerard Fort of 1020-123 street, into which Gillett's motorcycle crashed, was exonerated from all blame.

Gillett died instantly after his motorcycle crashed into the rear of the truck on Kingsway Drive and near 13th avenue.

KEN DARLING ... His new life.

Runaway Sailor Happy In His Edmonton Home

Ken Darling is making a success of his new life in Canada.

The British merchant seaman who last year jumped his ship to be with the girl he loves has completed a six-month course in show card painting and is ready to go into business for himself.

Darling arrived in Edmonton more than a year ago when he gave himself up to authorities at Emerson, Man.

He had travelled across the United States from New York where he had jumped his job as a waiter aboard the Queen Mary.

Held at Emerson for almost a month, before authorities gave him a clean bill of health to enter Canada, Darling finally arrived in Edmonton Nov. 1, 1946.

Here, he married Ellen Newman, the girl he has loved since they first met at a dance in their native England.

WAS WORTH EVERYTHING The wait in Edmonton, the uncertainty, everything was worth it, says Ken today. Ellen agrees.

Ken and Ellen have their own suite at 1437-79 street, and Ken is ready to go into business.

Ken Darling had a lot of trouble following his girl to Canada. So much trouble, in fact, he doesn't want to go through it again.

Agriculture Course Improved For '50

Visual Education and Practical Demonstrations To Be Included

A new look is being prepared for the 1950 agricultural short course sponsored by Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

It's going to be a radical departure from the past, with visual education and practical demonstrations replacing speakers and films of former short courses.

J. E. Dugan, chairman of the chamber's agricultural section, says that as a result of requests from those attending last year's successful short course in the Masonic Temple, the 1950 effort is being planned to include visual education and practical demonstrations.

First day will be Livestock. Arrangements are under way to have various breeds of beef and other cattle at the pavilion for actual demonstrations in care, feeding and preparation for market.

Second day will be Farming. Speakers will talk large in the program, with films and visual education, crop spraying and dusting equipment.

Farmers will have an opportunity to learn to make adjustments in plows, tillage, and other tractor, combines and balers. Machinery will be made available with cooperation of Alberta Crop Wholesale Association, and their service men will be on hand to demonstrate use and adjustment of the various equipment.

While details have not yet been completed, the 1950 short course will also include visual and day activities which have proved so popular in past years.

Two Months For Assault A city man was given 60 days in jail for a charge of assault on a woman.

He is Frank Powell of 1027-46 street who pleaded guilty to attacking Alexander Syntak of 7515-128 street Nov. 11.

After beating up the elderly man, Powell advanced on Constable C. J. McInyre, brandishing a butcher knife.

"This might have happened with more serious consequences," said Magistrate A. J. Miller. "That is why I am sentencing you to 60 days in jail."

One Injured, One Escapes As Truck and Locomotive Crash

A Redwater oil worker was sent to hospital last night after an auto he was driving plowed into the drive wheels of a CNR locomotive at the 102 avenue and 125 street railway crossing.

Ted Weems was admitted to Royal Alexandra Hospital suffering from a badly cut hand, scratches to the face and shock. A woman occupant of the car, who told police she was Lenore Leonard, 1605-113 street, escaped injury.

Traffic along the main artery was blocked from 8:15 to 8:45.

The freight locomotive was shunting cars in the district, Len Belland, locomotive fireman, said the car was going west and as it approached the tracks, skidded into the drive wheels of the northbound locomotive.

Front end of the auto was entirely demolished. When police arrived they found Weems about a half block away from the wrecked car.

Engineer of locomotive 7420 was Stanley Pollock of 1800-96 street.

Freight Rates On Grain

The demand of the railways that the Crown's West freight rate on the hauling of grain from the West be increased does not seem to be justified by the facts.

On the contention that the Crown's West rate is a discrimination in favor of the prairie area, the railways would insist that the rate on grain to a party with other rates and thus increase the farmer's annual freight bill by some $10,000,000.

Both factually and historically, the argument of the railways is unsound.

In the first place, the railways have never given detailed information as to the cost of hauling any commodity and to assume that they are hauling grain at a loss is to assume something quite unsupported by any evidence.

But even if the railways are hauling grain at a loss, which we do not believe they can prove, even this condition does not justify an increase in grain rates.

It does not justify any increase in grain rates because other considerations come into the picture besides profit and loss.

The Crown's West rate is one of two rates fixed by the parliament of Canada.

The first such rate is that which prevails in the Maritimes where parliament, in order to make federation with Canada attractive to the Maritime provinces which were separated by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation which is engaged in commercial broadcasting.

at 20 per cent less than the rate on Ontario and Quebec.

This was and is a special freight rate provision designed to maintain the health of the overall Canadian economy.

The second such rate fixed by the parliament of Canada, the Crown's West rate on grain, is based on similar considerations.

Because it was vital to the Canadian economy that western grain be enabled to move to navigable waters at a low cost, the Crown's West rate was established.

And to balance that special rate, the railways were earlier given larger but grants and mineral resources as an incentive to build their lines across the prairies.

These grants are still tremendous railway assets.

And they, as well as the continuing principle upon which the Crown's West rate is based, should be taken into account when the question of raising grain rates is examined.

The Edmonton Bulletin has always maintained that the railways should enjoy a scale of freight rates which will enable them to show a reasonable profit.

But the hauling of grain more than a matter of mere importance. It is vital to the whole country.

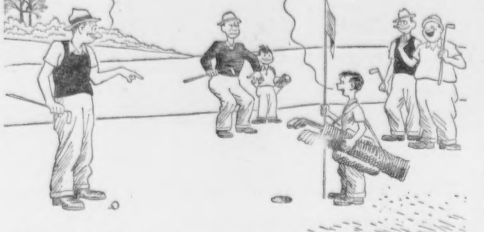

For that reason the entire load should not be borne by the western farmer but by the freight rate structure of all Canada.

Federal Contribution Establishes Principle

Regardless of one's opinion respecting the details of the Federal contribution to municipal buildings in the line of taxes, the important aspect is that, for the first time, the federal government has admitted some responsibility.

Government immunity from taxation has worked a serious hardship in many communities because of the fact that valuable properties have been taken off the tax roll and yet the municipality has had to provide services at the cost of the other taxpayers.

It is of the utmost importance that this principle be firmly established, and even though the proposed grants may not represent an adequate contribution, it would mean that the question of adequacy could be fought out in the courts.

But until the government does begin contributing, there is little point in worrying about how much it should contribute.

Now that the federal government has made the move, it would seem that the provincial government should find it more difficult to refuse to do likewise.

And the provincial government has plenty of buildings scattered throughout Alberta.

It is not a matter of taxation at all, but a matter of contributing to the cost of maintaining the services which are used by government buildings.

There is no more reason why a government should obtain municipal services free of charge than there is for it to expect the services of employees free of charge.

Assessment Methods Vary

At the same time, there is some merit to the official objection that the government should not be involved in the assessment of municipal property.

It might seem a bit cynical to suggest it, but experience has shown there is sometimes a tendency to charge the limit when some outside agency is involved. That is, the government would charge the limit before now and it becomes very difficult to do so when expensive buildings are involved.

It must also be agreed that the public usually expects official democracy know what it is at stake in any decision.

Electric Output

There is one point in Senator Reid's account on Premier Brown Johnson which seems to me far off the beam. If we really want to do as we can we could use all the proposed electrical output here in Canada.

While in Europe this summer, I learned that the government of Norway City of Oslo is to be completely heated by electricity. It took 25 years to plan and build the complicated system of mountain lakes, dams and controls. The first turbine began to produce last February.

The Oslo project differs from the "Ola" project in that it was designed from the beginning to produce not just light or industrial power.

When completed, the Oslo project will save the people of Norway City the expense, labor and nuisance of importing some 200,000 tons of coal per year.

Canada probably has the world's record for being the most wasteful of power. For decades we have been burning natural gas and other by-products in the most wasteful manner.

By year, more and more of this has been utilized to heat homes. The result is that "ghost" gas, "smoke" outdoors has been ever used.

Only after all these years are we running a natural gas pipeline across the Rockies.

No Increase In Radio License

The radio license fee will not be increased. This is the information conveyed to the Canadian Association of Radio and Appliance Dealers by Transport Minister Cleave.

The majority of Canadians will hope that this message embodies an authentic enunciation of Canadian radio policy.

Any attempt to increase the present annual fee of $2.50 would be resented by hundreds of thousands of Canadians who already feel that any fee is an imposition when it is used to finance an organization like the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation which is engaged in commercial broadcasting.

Most Canadians are of the opinion that the overall controlling body in Canadian radio should not be in commercial competition with privately owned stations.

And this general impatience with the entire radio set-up in Canada is inclined to make owners of receiving sets peculiarly sensitive to anything which may look like a higher tax on their radio privileges.

It is unfortunate that this situation exists because a system of radio control which does not have the full support of the public does not make for a wholesome condition.

But only the government can do anything about it.

Things Of Caesar, Things Of God

The incident recounted in St. Matthew's Gospel where the agents of the Pharisees and the adherents of Herod Antipas approached Jesus and asked Him if it was lawful to pay the tribute money to Caesar was a plain attempt, of course, to embroil Him with the Roman authority.

Those who plotted against His life knew that to achieve their purpose it would be necessary to provoke Him to an offence against Roman law which alone had power to involve Him in a trial.

But Jesus took the Roman coin they showed Him and, pointing to the image of the emperor, said:

"Render, therefore, unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things which are God's."

There is a far greater significance in this reply than a mere formula for political behavior.

For in it was enunciated the principle upon which are based the basic views of the Church with regard to temporal and spiritual authority.

In the first place, it is to be noted that Christ did not propose to reduce the purpose of His ministry to the purely political level of a Jewish nationalistic revolt against Rome. The essential catholicity of His Church was doubtless in His mind when He uttered this word.

On the contrary, His words advised submission to constituted authority. Lawful civic power should have loyalty and obedience.

But there were limits to that obedience. Government could not encroach upon the sphere of the spiritual.

Caesar could have tribute, but not worship. Church and state, Christ's words implied, were separate and distinct, each with its own type of authority.

It was God's will that the state should have power in temporal matters and that the Church should have power in spiritual matters.

This is still the view of enlightened churchmen who base upon the words of Christ Himself.

"And what type of food makes up your diet?"

"Furthermore," I said, "if you will give me the address of Sophie and this Fifth Avenue, we'll have them over some night for a dish of triple and a drink."

"I mean this is what I should have liked to say. Actually, I signed out with awe."

He assumed a serene smile, genially deep, and pointed to an ornament that I wouldn't let my wife be found dead for a dish of triple and a drink.

"This is an original by Fat. Just $25."

"I signed and felt myself torn up."

"And this," she continued, "is by Sophie. Only $200."

I whispered to my wife, "if you could see the man who sold Sophie in your own little sewing office, I'd beat your ears down."

The Balkan queen continued to lay out other numbers by Sophie and Fat and other numbers and expatiated royally on their merits as $200 and $25.

ODDS AND ENDS

For shopping purposes, all Manhattan, like all Gault, is divided into three parts. Of course, there are many sections other than these three.

There is, for instance, the row of shops along the river, the row of shops along the river, the row of shops along the river.

These places are staffed by authentic salesmen of the nobility as against the artifice of the French revolution had an aversion to blood, have an aversion to anything less than a $100 bill.

Indeed, their constitutions in this respect are so delicate that an apparently robust salesman in a Park Avenue store has been known to faint dead away at the sight of anything as vulgar as a two-bit piece.

For a short time, they sell westerns and cravats and things accordingly.

Egg-Bacon Groups Ask Price Support

Worried Over Reduced Sales To Britain For Likely Less Money

By Harold Morrison

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—(CP)—The Canadian Federation of Agriculture yesterday said it will seek government price support for eggs and other commodities if Anglo-Canadian food contracts are reduced in 1950.

A federation spokesman said farmers and poultry producers are particularly concerned over the possibility that British will not renew the £2,000,000 egg contract and that the bacon contract will be cut to 25 per cent of the 1949 value.

A government spokesman said there should be no worry about a possible fall in egg prices until at least the early part of next year. The government said it was buying eggs—and will continue to do so until December—to fill the 1949 United Kingdom contract. Until the contract is filled, the government will purchase all the eggs it can get at about 47 cents a dozen for shell. Wholesale prices, generally, are well above that figure.

WORRY ON BACON

The agricultural federation, which represents bacon as well as egg producers, said bacon producers were particularly distressed at the possible fall in bacon prices. The products were paying high prices for feed and therefore would feel the blow if Canada could not continue to obtain a suitable price for Canadian bacon.

It was indicated in government quarters that the contract next year will be about 400,000 pounds—or about one-quarter of the 1949 contract.

However, there will be no indication of the price. This year Canada obtained $56 a hundredweight for No. 1 Windsor sides. It was understood British asked a reduction in prices.

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 18.—(UPI)—Four Ukrainian refugees were held for preliminary hearing to night on a charge of murder, after staging a five-minute reign of terror here.

Police said the group were responsible for the death early today of Jack Loucks, 37, who was knifed in the throat and left to bleed to death on the sidewalk. Other crimes attributed to them were assault on service station operators James and Hazel Hogan who were beaten and half stripped; and the slaying of Sidney Riley, 36, and Floyd Smith, 25.

The four accused, James Zahodak, 33, Paul Zahodak, 28, both of Hamilton, Ont.; John Zahodak, of Toronto, and William Yuma, of Hamilton, appeared briefly in court for arraignment and were taken to the cells.

Earlier they were charged with wounding, assault and attempted robbery, but police said these lesser charges were dropped.

Loucks, a truck driver, was fatally stabbed during a fight outside a restaurant that involved Riley and Smith. Hogan and his wife were attacked shortly before the brawl.

Police said they could find no motive for the attacks.

U.S. Order Hits B-29s

Special To The Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(UPI)—The U.S. Air Force says part of its strategic bombing planes—the B-29 Superfortresses—will be sent to Europe in an effort to stop B-29s.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff, has ordered that all strategic air command B-29 Superfortresses be taken out of operation. He acted after conferring with Lt. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, strategic air commander.

The directive was issued yesterday at the end of the three-day period marked by the loss of four B-29s. But an air force official said only one of these crashes appeared to involve engine trouble.

The kind of accident that the grounding order was designed to eliminate.

Engine trouble apparently was not a factor in the collision of two B-29s above Stockton, Cal., Wednesday night, killing 11 crewmen or in the ditching of a B-29 off the coast of Japan.

The fourth B-29 crashed at the MacDill Air Base, Tampa, Fla., yesterday, killing five crewmen. In a B-29 engine caught fire shortly after it took off to search for the B-29 missing off Bermuda.

BRIDGE

Nice Hold-Up Play Gets Little Credit

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

Do women play bridge as well as men? Every time I appear on a radio program the interviewer asks me that question. It is my opinion that women get more fun out of bridge than men do. The popularity of the game is increasing tremendously and there will be many more bridge parties this winter than ever before. No men will renounce playing bridge.

because they say there are too many arguments. Yet, strangely enough, I have seen a foursome of women with one discussing politics, another giving her favorite recipe for chocolate cake, the third talking about her children and the fourth going on about her business and making a terrific play.

This happened in a social game in Gatlinburg, Tenn., where, by the way, the Smoky Mountain Bridge Tournament will be held Nov. 21, 22 and 23. The kind of spades was created by West. If South had won this trick with the ace and then led a diamond (he has to guess whether to play a diamond or a club) West would win, return another spade, and East would win the ace of clubs to get in with his first trick. This played the four-club from dummy and let West's king hold the trick. West felt the time taking politics continued with the five of spades and now declarer played the ace from dummy and led a diamond. West winning. Having no more spades, West shifted to a heart. Declarer went right up with dummy's ace and then played a club. East winning and leading back a spade. Declarer won with the queen, and now she had nine tricks—two aces, a heart, three diamonds and three clubs.

When the hand was over, West continued to talk politics. East got to the point of frustration for chocolate cake. None of the ladies not even North who was still busy with her children's problems. I was gratified South upon the execution of a beautiful hold-up play.

Oh! Do you want me to say whether women play bridge as well as men? Sorry, I have no opinion on this subject.

Bissell Church Plans For 13th Anniversary

Thirteenth anniversary of Bissell Memorial will be held on Sunday and Monday, Nov. 20 and 21.

On Sunday evening at 7:30, Rev. Hart Cantelon, B.A., B.D., will be the guest preacher, with his subject being "The Check-Return of God." The choir will provide accompaniment, special sessions of the junior and senior church school will be held at 11 a.m. conducted by Mrs. N. Boyce and Mrs. J. T. Stephens, the superintendents.

On Monday evening Nov. 21, the Bissell Young Peoples Union will present a program commemorating the coming 25th anniversary of church union. It has been written and prepared by the Mission and will be especially presented at 8 p.m. with orchestra and organ accompaniment. Refreshments will be served later.

Rev. J. T. Stephens, director, Miss Ruthburn will sing, accompanied by Miss K. Gould. Mr. Robert Smith will preside at the altar for the program. Young Peoples Union at Bissell have earned the whereunto to purchase new stage curtains and fittings and will give their premiums on Monday evening.

Bissell Memorial, the gift to the church of the late E. Bissell of Goddard and Kinross, certainly became a veritable centre of activity to some in recent years.

It draws to itself not only those who serve the community through its gymnasium. It runs everything from venturing, schools and kindergartens to good will industries. It has practical courses training leaders. The Canadian Red Cross Unit meets there regularly, as do the Bissell Senior Community group.

Mrs. J. T. Bissell has already written her message of gratitude to the mission as the occasion, enclosing her check.

Bissell serves as the headquarters of the All Peoples Mission of the church, which includes Bissell, Beverly, Dundas, Fort Nelson, and Waterloo.

The staff consists of the superintendent with Mrs. J. T. Bissell and Miss E. H. Bissell as home mission workers, and Jack Wylie as part-time assistant.

The Presbytery committee includes Rev. E. Bissell, M.A., Mrs. Bissell, Dr. J. T. Bissell, and the general secretary is W. R. Curtis of Beverly.

New Bishop Is Unknown

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20.—(C.P.)—The Church of England in Canada announced today selection of a bishop for the Arctic diocese has been deferred until next April.

The announcement came after two days of closed meetings at which it had been expected a successor would be appointed to Bishop Archibald Lang, Florida.

The announcement said: "The House of Bishops and the committee on election of bishops of the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land at their meeting convened to elect a bishop of the Arctic in succession to Bishop Fleming, retired, decided to defer the election until the forthcoming provincial synod in April next."

It was a "Flying Bishop"—spiritual head of probably the largest diocese in the world—retired last month after 16 years of shepherding a flock of 11,000 whites, Indians and Eskimos and tending 2,250,000 square miles of territory on the world's dome.

Hope Mission Anniversary

An anniversary service is to be held in the chapel of the Hope Mission on Wednesday, November 23, at 8 p.m.

A program will be provided by musical and vocal artists.

Many who wonder at the nature of the work carried on by the Mission, in reply to this, reported on the given from the department, outlining work carried on, people helped from year to year.

Closing Missionary Services Sunday
In the closing services of the 25th annual missionary conference of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Edmonton, the Sunday night speaker at 7:30 and 7:50 a.m. in English Tabernacle will be Rev. H. L. Kennedy, missionary from French West Africa.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Saturday, Nov. 19, 1949

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Happiness in God
The Christian religion teaches that man was created for true and lasting happiness. It stresses, however, that this happiness is not to be sought entirely on earth, but in heaven, where those who have been faithful to God will be united with Him in eternal glory.

The promise of ultimate salvation and happiness has given courage and strength to countless millions throughout the centuries whose lives have been burdened with sorrow, poverty, illness or pain. Indeed, without that comforting assurance existence on earth would be unbearable to many.

To human beings generally, the promise of final happiness is an incentive not only to keep the divine law, but to live lives of positive good. The belief that God's faithful will surely be blessed forever explains why Dr. Albert Schweitzer, one of the world's leading Protestant missionaries, gave up what promised to be a brilliant career in the world in order to become a doctor to Negroes in French Equatorial Africa. Like Dr. Schweitzer, many saintly and spiritually-wise men and women have turned their backs on the world to serve God in noble and heroic ways.

There is always this truth to ponder: that the more we give to God, the happier we will be on earth. This is not difficult to understand. The highest human happiness is based on purity of soul, which, in turn, comes from surrender to God.

No burden or pain can crush the spirit of contentment, trust and love which is the badge of those who have come to the knowledge that God is the source of all good.

New Calendar Claimed 'Attack on Religion'

Edmonton Seventh-Day Adventist Church is opposing the new United Nations calendar.

Labeling it as "an attack on religion," Seventh-Day Adventists are opposing the proposed calendar revision bills now pending in the United Nations Council and in the U.S. Congress.

Both bills provide for adoption of a perpetual calendar in the U.S. and its territories. In 1950, and direct President Truman to urge its acceptance by the government of Canada and of the other nations of the world at the United Nations, and other international conferences.

The church cannot sanction any new calendar which would be of questionable value to business, "for it would strip all birthdays and anniversaries, and religious observances, of their significance," according to the church's statement.

Seventh-Day Adventist pastor, "Use of the 'blank day' device means that at every close, a day is lifted out of the count of the year."

FULTON OUSLER'S Modern Parables

THE GREAT PERFORMANCE

Dear Friends and Gentle Heirs:
In the days of my youth, I was often assured that "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform." In today's mad era of disbelief, God moves just as mysteriously as ever before. But his wonders show the deservings which makes me think of Nannie and her glowing in the face of death.
Nannie was a homely lass, born to bring up other people's children and never to have any of her own. One day she was hired to join the household staff of friends of mine in England, to take care of their little boy.
Very soon my friends discovered that Nannie had an incorrigible habit, which was to believe in the goodness of God and the rightness of all things, no matter what had befallen her. Her implacable cheerfulness sometimes got on the family's nerves. A little grinning now and then would have been a welcome relief. Polyanthus was not enough, but after all, she was an attractive young girl; here was a great old maid, who, when she smiled, blew the roof off the house, and the rain rained the best carcase, went around happily singing hymns.
That, nevertheless, was her part: ever good humor won the affection of the child of my friends until the mother was almost jealous. It happened then that in one little one was expected and Nannie assured her mistresses that she would be able to take care of the two just as well as one. So did say, that was never necessary.

Church At Westmount To Mark Anniversary

Special services will mark the 36th anniversary of Westmount Presbyterian Church. They will be conducted by Squadron-Leader Rev. James Dunn, CDB, MA, ED.

Church has been newly decorated from front doors to pulpit and as the morning service a new choir will be dedicated. Westmount Church was formally opened and dedicated on November 8, 1913 by Rev. D. G. McQueen, D. D. Rev. C. D. Campbell was the first missionary appointed in charge of the new field. It is of interest to note that Mr. Campbell recently celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination. He is now living in Mexico and although officially retired is still active and undertakes preaching services as opportunity offers.

Location Changed

Opened first at the corner of 129 street and Albany avenue, in 1922 the church was moved to its present location at the corner of 129 street and 110 avenue.

On The Farm

By PAT McVEAN
Speaking of the Royal Winter Fair—and newspapers have been doing little else this week—when is it going to be conducted on an Indianapolis auto race basis?

Auto races on the Indianapolis speedway cover 500 miles and even drivers' crowns by burning up the track at a furious rate for only one mile.

But a few hundreds of wheat grown in a windowbox are enough to win the wheat king title at the Royal Winter Fair.

Actually, "windowbox" is an exaggeration—Mrs. Amy C. Kelsey was her champion this week with wheat grown between the trees in her Okanagan fruit orchard.

Nobody says Mrs. Kelsey didn't deserve to win her wheat was the best exhibited at the Royal, but we do say she didn't deserve to compete with genuine wheat farmers.

It's one thing to pick your best wheat samples from a 540-acre farm where wheat is raised as a business proposition. It's considerably easier to pick them from a few plots, nurtured by hand, and tended with the care usually associated with what Mrs. Kelsey calls her "experimental field."

Mrs. Kelsey's championship (this is her third title, like those of other small-acreage growers are never very popular with exhibitors who make a business of growing seed wheat.

They admit that some day, as per prize winning need is available in larger quantities, Mrs. Kelsey's efforts may make an important contribution to Canadian agriculture.

But until then, the competition of a wheat-growing "hobbyist" will be restricted by the real steps and crown prizes of the farming industry.

Royal Winter Fair officials could end the resentment, and likely increase the Fair's value both to small-estate growers and big-scale farmers, by offering two wheat championships.

One would recognize the quality of wheat samples grown experimentally; the other would be a tribute to the working farmer.

Walter Elliott, government field supervisor at Mortville, voiced hundreds of farmers' complaints when he addressed sessions of the Weed Control Conference at Edmonton this week.

He said farmers were being handicapped in the effective use of 2-4-D weed control by varying amount of acid manufacturers put in the chemical.

"Confusion exists over the present system whereby one firm has 50 ounces of acid a gallon of solution while another may have 75 ounces," Mr. Elliott said.

Manufacturing companies should take note.

Princess Not Coming to Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent announced yesterday in the Commons that there is no foundation for rumors of a pending visit to Canada by the United States by Princess Margaret.

He said the government has not yet considered the question of inviting the Princess to visit Canada.

A New Travel Ration Period

Began
NOVEMBER 16th

AS ANNOUNCED BY THE MINISTER OF FINANCE, THE REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE USE OF U.S. DOLLARS FOR TRAVEL CONTINUE IN FORCE. As in the past, it will be necessary for Canadians to obtain a permit from their bank if they wish to take out of Canada more than $10 U.S., or more than $25 in U.S. and Canadian currency combined.

Pleasure Travel

The maximum amount of U.S. dollars which any Canadian resident may obtain for pleasure travel purposes during the twelve months beginning November 16th, 1944, is $150. In the case of children of eleven years and under, the amount is $100. There is no restriction in the number of trips as long as the annual allotment is not exceeded.

Travel for Business, Health or Education

Reasonable amounts of U.S. dollars may be obtained for these purposes by making application through any of the chartered banks.

Travel to Europe

Special arrangements exist whereby Canadian dollars can be used to buy the appropriate currencies for travel in the United Kingdom and other sterling area countries, as well as in most countries of Western Europe. Travel expenditure in these countries does not come out of the $150 U.S. currency ration.

NEW LOCATION for Allen's Flowers on Edmonton's South Side is at 10808-82 avenue, in heart of ever-growing Whyte avenue business district. New shop is equipped to handle all latest in floral work, and aimed to provide South Siders with top notch service in this line.

Allen's Flower Shop Moves To New Location Here Today

Keeping pace with the expanding development of Edmonton's South Side business district, Allen's Flowers today are moving into smarter and more commodious quarters. The new mahogany-fronted store, which will be a showplace for the Allen family's gorgeous home-grown blooms will be located at 10808-82 avenue.

The Allens are not newcomers to the flower business in Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen started in the business more than 25 years ago with a single greenhouse in the vicinity of 104 street and 79 avenue. Since, two sons, Arthur and Ernest Allen have grown-up into the business and together the family now operates more than 10,000 square feet of greenhouse space in addition to about 10 acres of outdoor gardens.

MANY PLANTS
During the busy season, the help of as many as 10 additional men is needed in caring for the vast quantities of plants and blooms. Mrs. Allen, with two assistants, looks after the retail store which was opened three years ago at 10642 avenue, and where this branch of the business was operated until the present.

Nearly all flowers sold to the public through Allen's Flowers are grown in their own gardens or greenhouses.

At this season of the year most people are the numerous varieties of chrysanthemum or just plain "mums" as they are more popularly known.

Displays now on exhibit in the store include samples measuring more than six inches across.

GOOD SUPPLY
The supply of these flowers, according to Mrs. Allen promises to be good for the Christmas season. Carnations, daffodils, tulips, snapdragons and stocks, along with other not so common flowers are featured in their respective seasons.

In addition to cut flowers Allen's Flowers specializes in making wedding bouquets, funeral designs, corsages, and the growing of potted plants.

A wide selection of chinaware, figurines and vases appropriate to accompany bouquets of flowers as well as woven baskets made by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and metal products are kept on hand for the convenience of patrons.

New Shop For Youngsters Opens Today

South Side shoppers will find a smart new service waiting for them in the Miss Muffet shop being opened today in the midst of Whyte Avenue's fast-growing shopping area.

The shop with the nursery rhyme title is opening its doors at 10808-82 Avenue and plans of its owner, manager and chief designer is to cater to the wants of South Side youngsters of nursery age.

Wearing apparel for the young masters and misses from six months to six years will constitute the main stock in trade of this smart new shop, according to Mrs. Jean MacNab.

Mrs. MacNab conceived the idea of the shop for children's requirements and has planned and developed it since her return to Edmonton six weeks ago following an absence of 10 years.

WIDE VARIETY
Arrangements have been completed for a wide selection of the better quality brands of children's wear.

Among the brands for which delivery arrangements have already been completed are Pride and Joy, Ring of Montclair, Gay Togs, Cosy Gander, and Blue Bird. All of these lines are well known to mothers accustomed to shopping for suitable clothing for their children up to six years of age.

In addition to filling the clothing needs of the "small fry" an appropriate selection of toys and playthings for the age group will be stocked in the shop.

For the puzzled aunts and uncles faced with the problem of finding an appropriate gift for the young niece or nephew the Miss Muffet shop should present a ready solution. Its shelves will also be stocked with all sorts of items that make ideal presents for the preschool boys and girls.

While doing their shopping for the children busy mothers will also be able to fill their requirements for knitting supplies.

Daffy Doings Don't Always Kill Actor

There's been a lot of talk on Broadway in recent weeks about the incident at El Morocco club where Humphrey Bogart was caught with his pants down, and to hear the prissy boys tell it, unless Bogey stops acting up he's a cinch to finish behind the well-known eight ball.

Well, money is, but I wouldn't bet on it. It's my belief that, if anything, his daffy-doings will help his pulling-power at the box office, very much as they helped John Barrymore, W. C. Fields, and other talented screwballs who had the nerve to do what the rest of us only dream about.

And don't let any old-timer with beard on his vest tell you the entertainment business wouldn't have tolerated a Humphrey Bogart in the dear, dear days. According to the record, the antics of yesterday's stars make our present crop of performers look as pale as a ghost who has just seen a man.

ENGLISH STAR CITED

For every example, take, say, the great tragedian, Junius Brutus Booth—a name to conjure with and make fame at.

Junius Brutus was born in England a few years before the 19th Century made its bow, and by the time he was 13 a servant girl had secured him of being the father of her one-of-a-kind baby. During the next four years, among other things, he took a crack at being a sailor, a sculptor and the husband of two ladies, without the customary divorce in between.

None of this stunted his growth, however, because by the time he was 20 he had become one of the great stars of the London stage. He appeared at Covent Garden as Richard III, and the following season at Drury Lane as Iago to Kean's Othello. And, unless the record is lying his success was so great that a group of envious actors started a riot in the theatre and tried to burn it down.

Offstage, Junius Brutus was even more spectacular than on, and if Lauren Bacall's husband had been sampling the flesh and wine of the theatre at the time, chances are his experts wouldn't have rated a morning-after thought. Booth, so goes the story, made so many passes and passed out so many times that finally, at the insistence of his wife, he packed and skedaddled to New York.

TECHNIQUES UPSET

Here, he proceeded to revolutionize most of our acting techniques and, despite the enormous quantities of wood-water he consumed, he never let his audience down. At one matinee, he was literally carried into the theatre, and while the manager was splashing water in his face the customers began to yell for the show to go on. Amused by their catcalls, the tragedian stuck his face through the curtain and roared, "I'm drunk now, but in ten minutes I'll give you the greatest King Lear you ever saw." And he did.

Another time, he went into a pawnshop to borrow $10, pleaded himself as security, spent the tenner on Jersey applejack, and then, as per promise, came back and squatted in the pawnbroker's window until his manager redeemed him.

One night while playing "Richard III," he suddenly decided to revise Shakespeare's script, and

New, Vital Crops Grow in Hungary

Rice, Cotton, Peanuts
Now Take Place of Grain

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 19.—(BUP)—Hungary, which for centuries has been called the granary of Europe, is now making efforts to switch from the usual central-European crops (chiefly grain) to more profitable ones.

Stiff-necked but docile Hungarian peasants were shocked by the progressive independent of outside sources.

The government is sponsoring a program for cotton growing and there are now 14 state-owned experimental plant stations and 1,700 small-holders. Cotton seed was sown on 650 acres of land this year and experts predict a good crop.

American, Brazilian and Egyptian cotton seed were found to be unsuitable for the Hungarian climate, but Soviet and Hungarian varieties appear to be doing well. This year a special Hungarian type was produced by the state experimental plantations.

COTTON RAISED

Another plant, the growing of which seems fantastic to the average Hungarian peasant, is cotton. The prosperous and well-developed textile industry of Hungary urgently needs supplies of cotton and authorities are now endeavoring to produce their own and make Hungary independent of outside sources.

Yet another notable victory for Hungarian agriculture, loudly hailed by experts as "a new victory over nature," was the report that Hungarian farmers had succeeded in growing peanuts, containing 50 per cent first-quality

Hungarian farmers, working on one of the new "co-operative farms," boasted also of the first successful experiment of its type in the country: the raising of two crops of barley in one season.

The co-operative was reported to have produced a crop of 14 quintals of barley per acre over five acres of land, which they harvested in early June.

They then attempted to grow a second crop and were successful. This second crop brought a further eight quintals per acre, increasing the net yield of the one season to 22 quintals per acre. A quintal is equivalent to one hundredweight.

'Red Hot Mama' Smashes Club's No-Female Tradition

By Virginia MacPherson
United Press Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 19.—(UP)—That no-female-allowed tradition at the exclusive Friars club has been broken. The one and only "red hot mama" just blasted it all to pieces.

And the blasting, Sophie Tucker said today, was her "greatest thrill in 45 years of thrill."

It was also the first time she knew that she, one of the great dated 400 men. All of 'em famous too.

"Leave it to Sophie," she chuckled shyly.

MAKES HISTORY
Sophie made Hollywood history a few nights ago when she invaded one of those smoky-sinister stage

But this was no sneak crashing. She was, La Tucker will have you know, invited officially.

And the boys let her have it, with all the hardy entertainers like Eddie Cantor, Al Jolson, George Burns and George Jessel have picked up in almost half a century or so about houses.

"They put on skirts about my various hair affairs," Sophie grinned. "It was very funny. I got hysterical."

SETS AS ORCHIDS
The Friars first presented her with 25 expensive orchids. Then for two hours after singing, prose, and music recitations accompanied the lingers off their glass of home.

But they're no match for "Miss Show Business." She gave it right back to 'em with the same ammunition.

Burns called her "A great old whom everybody loves—without exception." Jolson insisted she was older than he is and Sophie told the gang he was just "jealous because he never got to first base with Tucker. But he's still trying."

CENSORS MISSING
"There weren't any censors there that night," Sophie grinned. "I tell you, sweetie, it was priceless. I cried. The boys cried. They insulted me. . . They pulled me. . . They made love to me."

"And then they stood up and proved that God would never take away from me my job of entertaining people. I was tingling in every one of those old bones."

"It was the sweetest thing that ever happened to me—that if I was unimportant."

SCREEN VERSION of sleeping in the raw is demonstrated by actress Gloria Grahame. In movie, "In a Lonely Place," she stays in bed through an entire scene with only her head and shoulders showing.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The good old American custom of sleeping in the raw finally will be depicted on the screen.

I guess it was inevitable. Movies have been going down the road to realism for some time. Actresses have been shown without makeup, without fancy hairdos, and now without clothes.

This new line for realism is being struck in the film, "In a Lonely Place." It came about during a casual with producer Robert Lord, director Nick Ray and stage-door dancer Humphrey Bogart. Also present, Gloria Grahame, the co-star, and Ray's wife.

"We've got a scene of Gloria waking up in the morning," said Bogart. "What'll we have her wear—nightgown or pajamas?"

"The men wanted the momentary matter for a few minutes. Then Miss Grahame spoke up.

"What's the matter with no clothes? I sleep in the nude and so do millions of other women."

It was true. For years, glamour girls have been clamoring out of king-size film beds attired in gowns that looked so more elegant than their other costumes.

So the scene was that with Miss Grahame in the altogether. Ray, a stickler for the real thing, had her slip under the covers and slither out of her clothes. Of course, she didn't clamor out of bed; she played the scene with her arms and shoulders above the sheet.

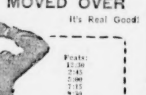

Miss Grahame was nonchalant about the whole thing. "It was born this way and I sleep this way," she said.

True Canadianism Promoted By Junior Chamber Work

Growing and expanding with Edmonton since its inception in 1929 is the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Most of this month and until December 7, the group is holding a concentrated drive to more than double the chamber's membership.

Aim of the group is to "lead the ranks from the present 70 members to at least 140."

Largest number of members ever on the group's roster was in 1936 when 400 businessmen enrolled.

This was due, explained Glen Park, club executive member, to the number of veterans who were given free memberships.

MEMBERS IN TO 41 only qualification to become a member, he said, was that a man be young—specifically between the ages of 18 and 41.

Large percentage of the chamber was formed by men assigned to large firms and who took a progressive view of things around them, Mr. Parks said.

Advantage of membership, he said, was that the chamber took active part in many civic projects.

These include advertising and sales bureau membership, council of social agencies, town planning commission, cancer control and Edmonton Exhibition association.

Other groups which the chamber has committees on are government and civic affairs, safety, localisation, national health, tourist council, aviation, industry and agriculture.

Through these varied groups the chamber and junior chamber is a spread of publicity for its home town.

Businessmen from other parts of the country wishing information as to how to become a member, or to learn more about the chamber, are invited to write to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, 10010 - 102 St., Edmonton.

Projects are not sponsored by the juniors either. They believe that home is where recreation and improvement should be made.

Breeding true to this was the Junior Chamber's success in sponsoring match contest to be held in Edmonton and district for eight years.

On top by the ambitious Jaycees are plans for more educational contests and citizenship awards, and for the Junior Chamber to act as a "bridge" between the city and its youth.

When 11,000 Becomes 8,300

Winding up the week: Now it comes out, the truth, yet. That reported crowd of 11,000 at Clarke Stadium the night the Eskimos played the 10th of the Western Conference football schedule against Calgary Stampede, shrank to 8,300 "paid", when all returns were in. At least that's what the boys paid off on, when the government called for it's pound of flesh, (taxonomic tax). . . Remember Hob Jackson, Calder product who played junior hockey here with Maple Leafs and Jimmy Graham's Caps? He's back with San Francisco Shamrock of the Pacific Coast Hockey which, after a brief hitch with Minneapolis of the amateur U.S. league, Jackson, who can fly when the mood is on him, scored 40 goals for Shamrock last season, was deemed ready for a while higher up the ladder. However Bill Cook, Minneapolis coach, failed to warm up to the slim winger, using him sparingly, even before deciding to "overberth him" out west to Tony Hemmeling, S.F. boss-man. . . . Add nomination as best looking (meaning photogenically) fighter in the business of back-breaking heavy (21 years) Jimmy Nolan, Calgary colt-aid (see Wednesday issue) who holds the western Canada lightweight title.

To Alex Trindle, not-so-Fancy-Dan Fryer winger, one plug for two goals in a losing cause as Calgary last night. The budding forward is quite the operator in those last 20 feet.

Of Rassin, and Mink Coats

Confidential to Al (The Bow Promoter) Oeming, whose one-night rassing stands at the Cow Palace continue to be big-office hits: latest gimmick in rassing promotion is a Mink Coat. What next, Al, what next? . . . Incidentally the grapevine has it that Stu Hart, easily the prettiest boy of them all when he grunts and groans before hockey tournaments (he's really a guy who slips into the role of villain when the scene of action shifts, say to Regina. Yuh gotta be versatile, chum, to stay on someone's "fancy train". . . . Already John Durey is being promoted in his role of the 1949 World Series film before this game season. In show and that centre. Durey was in the film around 70 times last season, and he's in this film materially with the New York Yankees. Durey's five-game net at six weeks back. The 1949 film should be making the rounds in southern Alberta, courtesy of Mr. Durey and Lew Tonn, promotion hizzle of the American league, soon after 20th Century Fox.

Harlan Glabe Trotter, basketball's own greatest show on earth, always can be depended upon to come with something new and different. Latest attraction is 14-points-a-game game Bill Dole. This slippery septa sniper has but one arm.

Send It Collect, Rush

Attention telegraph company: kindly send collect to A. D. Mercury, preparing to represent Canada in the 1949 World Series, is being promoted in February, reportedly have lined up a game against a Lehighridge intermediate team for later in the month. The northern Alberta aggregation includes in its roster Steve Lattin's former Lehighridge Maple Leaf teammates, Bob Kirkpatrick and Bill Gibson. . . . The good citizens of staid Victoria have gone nutty as a fruit cake over that P.H.L. guy of theirs and the time the turnabout playing rests over on the ears of franchise holder Leatre (The Old Fox) Patrick and Eddie Warder. At that British Columbia's capital city is a pretty good sport centre, considering the baseball team leaves much to be desired. . . . Picked at random from the usual crop of rumors that go the rounds at Grey cup time: "Woody Stearns and Sugarfoot" Anderson, full-inflated Calgary Stampede crowd, will hook on with Montreal Als for the 1950 grid war.

Jack Claybourne, Negro light-heavyweight rassin' champ who held his stuff at the Empire theatre a few years back, is back in the Los Angeles arena. Attendance frequently hits 7,000-10,000 when he's on the program.

WILDCATS FAVORED 2-1 OVER BOMBERS

By Stewart McNeil
VANCOUVER, Nov. 19.—(BUP)—The power-laden Hamilton Wildcats will be rated 2-1 favorite over Vancouver Blue Bombers when they meet at UBC stadium here today at 2 p.m. for the Dominion Junior football championship.

The game was aided with the eastern titlits and present Dominion champs following their break workout at Brockton oval yesterday afternoon. A few hours after the Hamilton team arrived in town, coach Fred Venle sent his Wildcats through a spirited two end special practice, which left onlookers gasping for breath. Vancouver stressed passing and had his backs running back kicks.

Bombers' hopes for a national title were dimmed with the news that fullback Keith Bennett, who was used sparingly last year, has his injured back has not responded to treatment as well as was expected.

The weatherman promised cloudy weather with intermittent sunshine for the game.

Pats Steam Along Beating Pandas 48-25

League-leading Army and Navy Pats floored Varsity Pandas 48-25, in the opener of the Senior Ladies' basketball league doubleheader, last night.

The Pandas four wins in four starts for Pats, who dominated the scoring throughout the game. Starlets lost 28-20 to Mortons in the second tilt after a hard fought battle.

Becky Macintosh was the game star for Pats, netting 18 points and 10 rebounds. She was the only player to score in the fourth quarter.

Varsity, who are now tied for third place with the Pandas, tried hard to keep the game close, but the Pandas were too good for them. The Pandas scored 28 points in the fourth quarter.

Farmer's Old Age Believed Happier

By Ken Laidlaw
Provincial News Editor

CALGARY, Nov. 18.—Henry Owens said if anybody was taking him on who had the best life, the farmer or a city man earning high wages, he would put odds on the farmer.

He didn't say this because he is a farmer. He was at one time, but for the last 25 years he has operated a lumber business at Bruce, Ala.

At the moment he is the oldest delegate, in years and service as a councillor, attending convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts.

He's just past 60 and he says he has no intention of retiring, because once a man retires he has nothing to do but wait around to die.

"When business interferes with pleasure, I take the pleasure," said Mr. Owens.

But as for this business about who has the best thing, farmer or salaried man

Farmer Is More Independent

The farmer is always battling nature, but when a slump comes he can depend upon nature to sustain him to some extent, while the salaried man may lose his job and everything goes out and nothing comes in, he argued.

Mr. Owens thought the farmer had a better old age.

When the farmer has sons they take over the farm and he lives with them in retirement amid happy surroundings, he contended.

The city man finds his family with houses of the job. He may work with them, but housework is his life.

He thought country life should be promoted for the pleasure of it all.

"I never figured on getting anything for nothing," he said. "But we are getting plenty." Under this contention.

In the morning, we have a breakfast, looking for a better future. But in the afternoon, we have a dinner, looking for a better future. The government can spend only what we give it.

Province Just Settling

Mr. Owens came from Kingston, Ont., in 1912—he became a commercial traveller in 1914 and has been at it ever since—and he thinks Alberta is just beginning to get settled.

He was speaking at a meeting of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, held at the city hall.

"It wouldn't take a farmer with a couple of men long to put in 2,000 acres of crop," he said, "but he can lose it just as fast; hail, drought, all that."

"To gamble like that you have to have something behind you, and the farmer hasn't got it," he said. "I think majority of farmers today are in business to build a decent home, not to make money and get out. But I don't like this trend toward larger farms."

Mr. Owens said he thought cities like Edmonton were today experiencing what rural areas experienced years ago, but in reverse.

"Edmonton hasn't been able to keep pace with development for obvious reasons," he said, "and it will take it some time to catch up with itself. But out in the country they've got the cart before the horse in many ways."

School Divisions Too Early

The large school division, he said, was about five years ahead of itself even in the settled areas south of Edmonton.

He thought municipal roads were not yet in shape to handle school bus traffic in all weather, but he was sure the day coming when all main municipality roads would be gravelled.

In the meantime he hopes he doesn't see another winter like 1913-14. He said it settled in in October and stayed until May.

He had to import hay from Ontario at $80 a ton. He fed his herd all winter then came spring, lost 50 head when they developed what was described to him as an animal form of influenza.

"You couldn't tell it was coming," he said. "Turn it slower for a few days and about 3 weeks the next winter took all their wintering. I never heard of it before and haven't heard of it since."

Futures Mart Claimed Keeping Prices Up

Western farmers would be getting much less than present prices for their oats and barley if futures trade had not continued on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The open market is showing the true value of commodities.

This is the opinion of J. H. Emerson, vice-president and general manager of National Grain Commission Limited and chairman of the Grain Exchange's board of governors.

Mr. Emerson is at present in Edmonton, conferring with heads of the local National Grain office.

"Exchange members are very proud these days," he said, "of the fact that the futures market is holding western farmers at the best possible price for their produce."

"And our main interest has always been the welfare of the farmer."

Cabbies Have Beefs, Too

Putting the hammer on taxi firms and taxi drivers has always been a popular pastime of the general public. Most people get all in a tizzy when they can't have a taxi at their door in something like nothing flat.

Today I got the other side of the story. Taxi drivers have their legitimate beefs too. Edmonton taxi fleet overseer Freddy Connors told me about some of the things that make life grim for taximen.

For example, a woman called a cab from the Market Building the other day. She wanted driver to eat three big sacks of potatoes to her home in a 50-cent zone.

Other "amusements" in the life of a cabbie: People who try to save on moving by hiring a cab. Cartage firms charge three dollars an hour and up for this.

Women who expect drivers to take their heavy steamers in the cab; passengers who forget addresses after they get in the car; women and men who always kick about fares, despite the visible evidence on the meter; people who urge drivers to break speed laws on way to station or airport, and last but not possibly most annoying of all, the fellow who insists on charging the trip because he's a "good friend" of the boss.

Mostly About People

She is one of those nice, ordinary persons who make the world a more pleasant place to live in.

She told me nothing very exciting ever happened to her unless you could count the time her two-year-old son Gary was lost and she found him asleep with the dog in the kennel behind the house after a frantic city-wide search.

She always thought it would be fun to have her name in the paper but didn't know how it could be done without getting into police court or dying or something.

Well, Mrs. Margaret McRitchie of 9607-88th avenue, we can do a little better than just putting your name in the paper and you don't have to get in police court or have quinines or die. Just for being a nice ordinary housewife (and there aren't enough of them), here's your picture in as well as your name.

MRS. MCRITCHIE

Shades of Elv Culbertson: Edmonton now has an all-male bridge club that convenes twice monthly in homes of members.

This unique group is composed entirely of war veterans, all employees of the Department of Veterans Affairs. Included are such delectable exponents of the contract game as "No Trump," Roy Hagmann, "Grand Slam," Walter McLauren (better known as "the Sphinx"), "Above The Line," Malcolm McLeod, "Finesse," Hal Moreau and "Third Rubber" Ken Kennedy.

What I'd like to know is this: What do they do with the women folk on bridge night?

Man with reddest face in Edmonton yesterday was visitor Melvin Thomson, sales manager for a Winnipeg plumbing supply firm. Thomson deployed at sun-bathed City Airport looking like an Arctic explorer in heavy winter overcoat, woolen muffler, thick gloves, galoshes and, of all things, a pair of ear muffs.

To Jearring Edmontonians, who greeted him with: "where's your snowshoes?" McI came back weakly with: "It was awful cold in Winnipeg."

Miscellaneous

Newcomer to Edmonton put me on the spot today about a couple of things.

Said he finds out after being here a couple of weeks that he's something of a sucker because he's been tipping on the lavish scale so distressingly common in Eastern cities.

Then he wanted to know when Edmontonians are finally going to leave the horse-and-buggy days behind. He swears he saw two or three automobiles with their front wheels immersed in the river. Drivers were filling radiators with water from the Saskatchewan.

Said he was told practice is hangover from days when residents rode their horses down to the river for watering.

As to tipping, I'm against it in principle. It leads to discrimination in service in hotels, restaurants and the like.

LAST CHANCE for Edmontonians to see sparkling stage production "Window Boy" comes at 8:15 tonight when Community Theatre presents Stephen Wilde as Ronnie Window. Show will be held in Herkerson Hall on 160 Street. It has drawn rave notices for its showings this week.

TEXTBOOK TRANSPORTATION has been one of many great changes from time of Mrs. Colin Case's school days. Grandmother of Grovernor school student Bob MacKenzie, 14805 Summit Drive, Mrs. Case has lived in west Edmonton district for past 34 years. Both Bob and his grandmas were at last night's official opening of Grovernor school, 103 avenue and 144 street.

West End Students Get New School Facilities

School days now will be happy days for more than 300 children of the Grovernor district in Edmonton's West End. Their new school opened last night with ceremonies attended by more than 300 parents and pupils.

The school is the first of five new buildings constructed at a cost of $240,000 each to help meet the needs of Edmonton's growing population. Other four schools will open shortly.

The big new Grovernor school is equipped with a microphone and loudspeaker system connecting all classrooms for use during entertainment programs and special events.

Air conditioning units change the air every 10 minutes. New flooring has a silencing effect in girls and boys play-rooms, and ceilings are finished with acoustical board.

Grounds cover a block and a half and are already leveled for landscaping.

SPECIAL SPEAKERS. Speakers at the opening ceremonies last night included James A. MacDonald, public school board chairman; Mrs. P. C. Butterworth, school board member; R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools; Mr. H. H. Hays, property committee chairman of the school board; and A. V. Cameron, Grovernor principal.

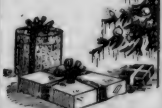

Mr. George D. Kelly gave the invocation. Musical selections were provided by Marilyn Montello, Donna Finch, Marlene Mann, Marlene Heaps, John Yango and Eden Couder.

Refreshments were served by the home and school association; social committee, including Mrs. Alice Heaps, Mrs. Irene Barber and Mrs. Lillian Holland.

Not counting the less habitable parts of Canada there are less than seven persons to the square mile in Holland and Belgium. There are 100 persons to the square mile.

New Hospital Plan to Be Considered by City Board

Dollar-a-Day Ward Care May be Adopted in City

Dollar-a-day public ward care scheme for city ratepayers will be considered by Royal Alexandra Hospital board.

Under the plan the provincial government would split operational costs with the city. General services would be paid last night.

The scheme was a result of a meeting recently between provincial and health department officials and board of trustees committee. Originally the plan was introduced for consideration in Calgary at a meeting of Alberta municipalities.

Aim of the scheme, board was informed, was to assist municipalities in public ward hospitalization not including special services, such as:

Necessary legislation has not yet been approved by the provincial cabinet. It was explained the plan would not affect present grants to the hospitals in question such as maternity and pensioners hospital services.

Before being introduced the scheme would have to be accepted by all four city hospitals.

At present the total cost for public ward care is roughly $520 in Royal Alexandra Hospital.

Then the balance of $150 would be split between the province and the city.

A rough calculation was given that if all four hospitals accepted the scheme, the city would save $150 a year.

The plan would be a pilot scheme for one year.

LIBRARY CART DEALS BEST SELLERS TO WARDS

BOOKS ON WHEELS are available anywhere in the entire hospital wing. Favorites in mystery, westerns, histories, autobiographies are piled on the library cart and patients like Edward Battistoni, centre, receive personalized service from league members, Mrs. John Bull, left and Mrs. N. H. Pierce.

LIBRARIAN MRS. JAMES CLARKE PRESIDES AT BOOKS

ADVENTURES IN WORLD of books substitute for war-time excitement for veteran patients James Jacques, centre, and George H. Stephenson, third seat, right. Mrs. James Clarke, librarian, knows literary tastes of every Colonel Mewburn Pavilion patient. There's a tremendous turnover in books, says the busy librarian.

LEAGUE MEMBERS ENJOY CHAT

Aberdeen League Proud Of Pavilion Library

Most hospitalised soldiers, sailors and airmen of the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion have . . . and lots of books.

A second-storey corner of the hospital wing is devoted to a library which was and is a major project of the Lady Aberdeen League of Edmonton. Thousands of books of all manner and description are categorically kept by librarian Mrs. James Clarke.

At war's end in May, 1915, a delegation of Lady Aberdeen League members approached University Hospital authorities with the library project planned in detail.

Enthusiastic co-operation of league members and hospital supervisors prompted the speedy opening of the library.

First opening had patients flocking to the shelves to pick and choose among the 300 new books. Today, just over three years later, thousands of first-string books are available throughout the entire pavilion.

Classic, mystery, western, romance, humor, fiction is popular with the veterans of all ages and both sexes. Biographies and non-fiction of all types are well read also.

League members work in pairs every afternoon and three evenings per week. They give personalized service to bed-ridden patients with large carts of books of every type.

Members are proud of their project and enjoy the year-round work it entails.

LEAGUE CONVENER BEAMS PRIDE

LEAGUE MEMBERS placed their confidence in Mrs. H. L. Richards when they made her convener of their net project, Colonel Mewburn Pavilion Library. Building-book supply is their principal problem of the moment.

SOLDIER ASKS READER OPINION

FICTION FAVORITES in the Colonel Mewburn library are pointed out to hospitalized soldier Bruce Bown by Mrs. W. G. Montgomery, Mrs. Montgomery is vice-president of Lady Aberdeen League.

Patients' Appreciation Makes Project Worthwhile

"I've been in hospitals from South Africa to North Ireland," says one gay old veteran, "and I've never seen a library to beat this one right here."

That is the kind of welcome comment which repays one hundredfold the hours Aberdeen League members offer to their library project.

President Mrs. Thomas Bolen smilingly says, "not one of us would miss our hours in the wards for all the pink teas in the world."

TAWASI CLUB Arctic Home For Hundreds Of Birds and Animals

Just west of Inuvik, in the Northwest Territories, lies a vast, frozen wilderness. It is here, in the heart of the Arctic, that a remarkable discovery has been made. A vast, frozen wilderness, it is here, in the heart of the Arctic, that a remarkable discovery has been made. A vast, frozen wilderness, it is here, in the heart of the Arctic, that a remarkable discovery has been made.

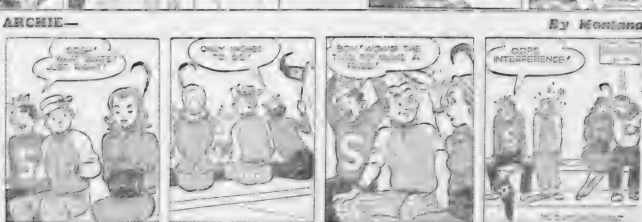

Today I am reporting to you about this discovery. It is a discovery that will change the way we look at the Arctic. It is a discovery that will change the way we look at the Arctic. It is a discovery that will change the way we look at the Arctic.

They have given the Arctic a new name. They have given the Arctic a new name. They have given the Arctic a new name. They have given the Arctic a new name. They have given the Arctic a new name.

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
By Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: NO KNIGHT EVER SERVED HIS LADY FAIRER MORE FAITHFULLY THAN YOUNG GEOFFREY. HE HAD DESERTED HIS POST AS PAGE-BOY AND EVEN STOLEN KING ARTHUR'S HORSES TO RENDER SERVICE TO LADY ALETA.

NOW, AT HER BIDDING, HE IS RETURNING. IT IS A VERY UNHAPPY LAD WHO RIDES SOUTHWARD ACROSS THE WINDY HILLS.

THE FORESTS ARE AFLAME WITH AUTUMN COLORS, BUT GEOFF DOES NOT NOTICE THEIR SPLENDOR. HE IS TROUBLED WITH A GROWING FEAR.

THE KNIGHT RODE ON, HIS HEART FULL OF DOUBT AND FEAR. HE WAS NOT SURE HE COULD DO WHAT HE HAD PROMISED.

HE FELT HE HAD ENTERED BY DECEIT AND COULD NOT BRING HIMSELF TO RETURN.

THEN HE REMEMBERED HOW HE HAD BEEN CALLED BY THE VOICE OF HIS LADY. HE MUST GO ON, HE MUST GO ON.

AND NOW, WITHOUT A WORD, HE WAS ALONE IN THE FOREST. HE WAS ALONE IN THE FOREST.

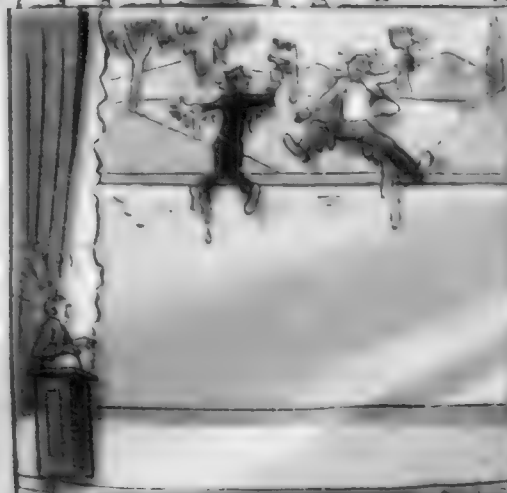

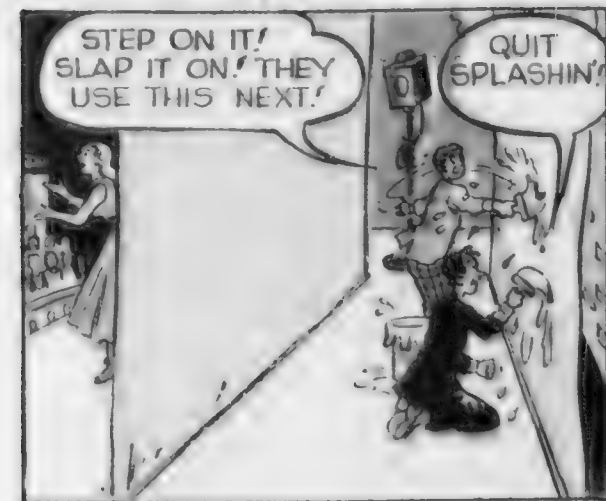

HE TOO WILL BE BRAVE AND FEARLESS. HE WILL FIGHT BOLDLY WITH GRACE ON THE KING'S MOUNTAIN.

THE KNIGHT RODE ON, HIS HEART FULL OF DOUBT AND FEAR. HE WAS NOT SURE HE COULD DO WHAT HE HAD PROMISED.

DICK TRACY

WITH TWO BATTERY OPERATED TELEGUARD CAMERAS COVERING THE FOREST RAVINE, TRACY AND SAM WATCH.

CRIMESTOPPERS TEXT BOOK

DUST PARTICLES REVEALING WHERE A SUSPECT HAS BEEN, OR WHAT HE HAS BEEN DOING, ARE OFTEN FOUND IN HIS SHOES, HIS POCKETS, SEAMS OF HIS CLOTHING, OR EVEN IN THE WAX IN HIS EARS.

STATIONED IN A FARMYARD AT ONE END OF THE FOREST, SAM CATCHES TALKS TO TRACY BY 2-WAY WRIST RADIO.

A FIGURE IN A FUR COAT AND A DOG ARE BEING PICKED UP BY MY CAMERA MOVING TOWARD THE CAVE.

STATIONED IN A DAIRY BARN AT THE OPPOSITE END OF THE FOREST, TRACY REPLIES.

WATCH 'EM CLOSE, SAM.

2-WAY WRIST RADIO

WE CAN'T SEE THEM BECAUSE OUR CAMERA IS TRAINED ON THE CAVE ENTRANCE.

"HE'S HEADING FOR THE CAVE," SAYS SAM. "WHAT DO YOU SAY?" "THIS IS IT!" REPLIES TRACY. "LET'S MOVE IN!"

TRACY'S CAMERA

SAM'S CAMERA

OUT OF THE FARMER'S CORNCRIB WHERE HIS CAR HAS BEEN STATIONED TRACY HEADS FOR THE SPOT.

TWO MINUTES LATER.

THAT WAS A CAR! I HEERED IT COMING THROUGH THE BRUSH!

COME ON, HOUND DOG, WE'RE TAKIN' COVER.

WHAT TH--?? SKUNKS! HUNDREDS OF 'EM-- OW!

WHOEVER YOU ARE, COME OUT OF THERE! THIS IS THE LAW!

THERE COMES A DOG!

GET THAT SMELL? IT'S AWFUL! LOOK AT THAT POOCH RUB HIMSELF!

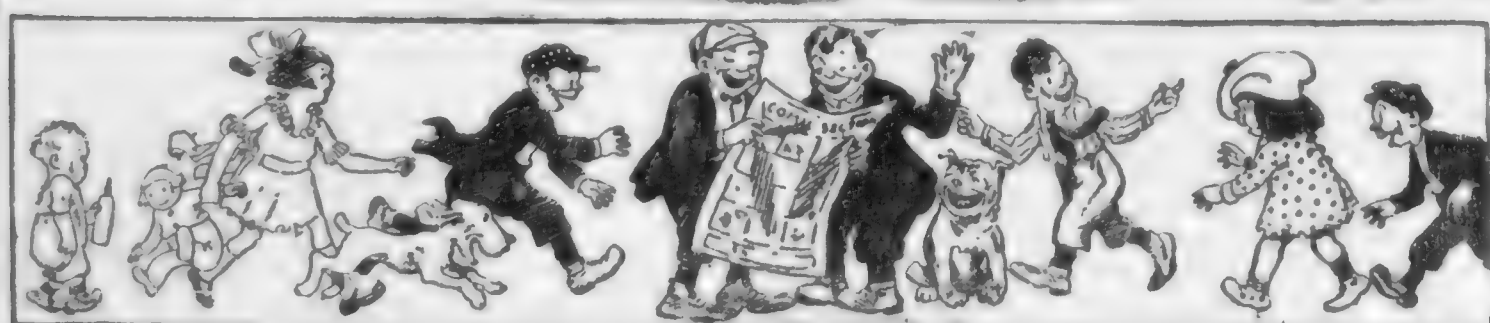

AND HERE COME THE SKUNKS.

AND HERE COMES THE GUY!

CAN'T STAND IT NO LONGER! I SURRENDER! (COUGH)

WHO IS HE?

YES, WHO IS HE?
